

Dimitra Kitsiou

---

Dimitra Kitsiou has studied Electrical Engineering at the National Technical University of Athens and holds a Master in Business Administration (MBA) from the Management School of the Edinburgh University.

She has served at several positions in the private telecommunication sector as project manager and from 1999 to 2004 she has served as Broadcast Services Manager for the 2004 Athens Olympic Games. Dimitra is a founding member of the Hellenic National Audiovisual Archive (HeNAA) contributed in all organizational aspects of the HeNAA establishment. Since July 2008 she has been appointed as HeNAA Cooperation and Development Manager having the responsibility for the relations with archival and education communities in Greece and abroad and being responsible for the establishment of A/V archival standards within Greece.